The committee in the matter of that portion of the address relating to the training school, offered resolutions of thanks to John Bard Esq., of Annandale for his magnificent donation to the school, and that the school be regarded as a part of the diocess.

The resolution concerning Bishop Onderdonk's case, which for some reason was not taken up at the beginning of the session, was now considered. It was moved that the resolution be laid on the table; and the constitutional number, five, having demanded the ayes and noce on the question, the secretary called the roll and registered the votes.

took an active part.

Rev. Dr. Herny also spoke. He rose amidst cries of Question, question," which resounded on every side of the house, and begged the courteous attention of the members for a few missiles. He then in a short speech pointed out the important fact that the papers referred to were not in possession of the house in case the motion was carried.

hoved the indefinite postponement of the whole matter, but the notion was lost.

The amendment of Dr. McVickar was then voted on, lost almost unanimously lost.

The consideration of Judge Hoffman's amendment was now again before the house.

Hon, Samuel B. Regolins offered an amendment to it, the spirit of which was, that Bishop Onderdonk should before action being taken on his case by the House of Bishops, deposit in the office of the secretary of the house his letter of resignation.

The President and the same time explaining the trouble and mischief likely to arise hereafter from such a proceeding. He also aluded in a very touching manner to the situation in which Bishop Onderdonk was placed, and expressed his firm conviction of the pentence of that pre-late.

tained that Mr. Ruggles himself had withdraw it. On yote it was lost.

The amendment to strike out the words "not inconsistent with the terms of such letter," in Judge Hoffman's amendment, was then considered.

A substitute to the whole matter, viz:—That remission of the sentence of Bishop Onderdonk would be acceptable to this Convention on such terms as would not interfere with the actual administration of the jurisdiction of this diocess, was offered, but afterwards withdrawn.]

Judge Hoffman's having accepted the amendment to his amendment, it was now put to yote and carried.

The amended resolution is as follows:—"That the remission of the sentence of Bishop Onderdonk would be acceptable to this Convention, provided the restrictions as to the exercise of his official functions, which he submitted in his letter to Bishop Potter, or such other restrictions as might be advisable by the House of Bishops, were made."

It was then moved that the secretary convey to the House of Bishops, were made."

Dr. Huanze thought that the fault lay "either with the laily nor with the elergy, but in the system "," which contributions are obtained.

Dr. Vinros said that a friend had just suggested to him that the delegations from the various parishes should contribute annually, over and above any other contribution, a sum equal to the yearly stipend of a missionary, and be offered the suggestion for the consideration of the Convention.

offered the suggestion for the consideration of the Convention.

A DELEGATE opposed such a plan, for the reason that he had not been endowed by his parish to take action on such a matter, and he believed that other delegates were similarly situated.

Anonima Misner then, in answer to the above appeal, pledged his parish for the support of a missionary for four years. His good exampte was imitated by many others, and pledges were also made of contributions to supply the deficit in the missionary fund.

The Secretary opened a subscription list, and those who desired, advanced and made their contributions. When the business of receiving the contributions was finished, the bishop announced that the deficiency in the fund could now be made up.

The thanks of the Convention were then yoted to the treasurer and secretaries for their services during the session.

Greenwich street accident. We give it verbatim as it was rendered, as follows:-"That the said John Gaffney came to his death by injuries received by the falling of an area wall on the premises known as No. 313 and 315 Greenwich street, and the accident occurred by the negligence of decased; and we further censure the contractor and foreman in not keeping a strict watch on said braces and wall." Gaffney was twenty-six years of ege, and was a native of Ireland. SUICIDE AT JONES' WOOD. -Coroner Jackman held an inquest yesterday at the Nineteenth precinct station house upon the body of an unknown man, about twenty-fiv years of age, apparently a German, who was found dead Wood, under circumstances which leave no doubt as to his having committed suicide by taking lands num. In the possession of deceased were found two hand kerchiefs, one heing marked "Caroline T. E. Sill," Near the body of deceased, on the ground, was found a piece of paper on which was inscribed "93 Elm street." The jury rendered a verdict of "Saicide," and the body was thereupon removed to Bellevue deadhouse for identification.

has begun in the proper place, among the leading bankers and merchants of the city, and it is almost superfluous to say a word in commendation of it. Colonel Duryea com-manded the Seventh regiment for many years. He was not a show colonel for parade on Broadway or after din her speech making, but went into his work exactly as he had been placed in the line of the army. He ha raised the reputation of the citizen soldiery of New York both at home and abroad. It would be im ossible to make a militia regiment more perfect in possible to make a militia regiment more perfect in the school of the soldier than the Seventh. Placed in a trying position at the Astor place riots the Colonel and his men behaved in the very best man ner. Increasant drills and the most rigid discipline have given the regiment its present high position and incited other bodies of citizen soldiery to emulate it. In Virginia and Maccachusetts, where the Seventh made visits last year, it excited the warmest admiration and the highest compliments. In a country like this, where we have no standing army compared to our territorial area and population, the citizen soldiery is the right arm of the civil power, and should be strongthened by all proper means. That the testimonial to the ex-Colonel of the Seventh is means to so desirable an end no one can doubt.

About ten o'clock the President, Bishop Potter, took his Secretary and approved. The standing committee on the Diocesau Fund sub-atted their report, allowing to members resident in dis-ant portions of the State a certain amount of mileage.

mitted their report, allowing to members resident in distant portions of the State a certain amount of mileage. The report was adopted.

The committee to consider the re-ensetment of article of of the constitution, recommended instead an amendment, viz:—That the clergy and laity shall vote as one body, and in case of clecking a Bishop the two orders shall vote separately, which was adopted.

A resolution was offered by the Rev. Mr. Mooks that the Missionary Committee append to their report at the next Convention a statement of the length of time that each station has been aided by the missionary fund. The Secretary moved that it be referred to the committee with power, but it was finally laid on the table.

A resolution was offered in regard to that portion of the Bishop's address which concerned the size and division of the diecess, consigning it to a committee of five to report at the next annual convention. The resolution was flost.

The committee in the matter of that portion of the ad-The committee in the matter of that portion of the adthe question, the secretary called the roll and registered the votes.

(At this stage of the proceedings the Right Reverend Lord Bishop Binney, of Nova Scotia, arrived, and was introduced to the Convention by the President.)

The motion was lest by the following vote:—Clerical vote—ayes, 23; nees, 128; lay vote—ayes, 52; noes, 71. Total ayes, 85; total noes, 190.

Judge Hoffman the remission of the sentence of the Right Rev. Bishop Onderdonk would be acceptable to this Convention, provided the restriction as to the exercise of his official functions, which he submitted in his letter to Bishop Fotter, or such other restrictions as might be advisable by the House of Bishops were made, not inconsistent with the terms of such letter.

After oftering the resolution he delivered a short speech explaining its object.

Hon, Luthian Bradish arose to express his regret that this resolution, or any one of the kind had been introduced, inasmuch as its discussion was highly unprelitable and tended to cause muscher and distract the minds of the discoess.

Rev. Mr. McVikkar moved as an amendment or substi-diocess.

Rey. Mr. McVickar moved as an amendment or substitute, that the papers in the case of Bishop Onderdonk, viz.: bis memorial to the House of Bishop for restoration, and an ante-dated letter to Bishop Potter from Bishop Underdenk, read before this Convention, be presented by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Potter to the House of Bishops for such action as they may deem proper.

This amendment was the cause of considerable discussion, in which the Rev. Messrs. Montgomery and Harristook an active part.

A Corried.

A Considerable discussion on this point, some one moved the indefinite postponement of the whole matter

At the conclusion of the Bishop's remarks a motion to adjourn was put, to decide which he requested the members to express their vote by rising, when it became evident that the motion was lost.

Dr. Viron made some remarks concerning the amendment and called for the question.

In the midst of the cries of "question" which followed, a motion to adjourn sine die was made, but was not considered.

The Bismor declared that the Hon. Samuel B. Ruggles' amendment was before the house, although some maintained that Mr. Ruggles himself had withdraw it. On vote it was lost.

A resolution was offered by the Secretary requesting the session.

It was moved and adopted that the Convention, after the reading of the minutes, adjourn sine die. Accordingly, after the approval of the minutes, the concluding cellects and Lord's Prayer were said by Bishop Upfold, the "Gloria in Excelcis" was sung, the greater benediction pronounced by Bishop Potter, and the Convention adjourned.
